Judge: The Honorable Josephine
L. Staton

Action Filed: April 24, 2017

27 ¹ Rob Bonta has succeeded former Attorney General Xavier Becerra as the

OPINIONS

I. THE GROWING PROBLEM OF PUBLIC MASS SHOOTING IN THE UNITED STATES

13. I have been asked by the California Department of Justice to update the opinions expressed in my 2019 Report with currently available information. I continue to stand by the opinions and conclusions expressed in my 2019 Report.

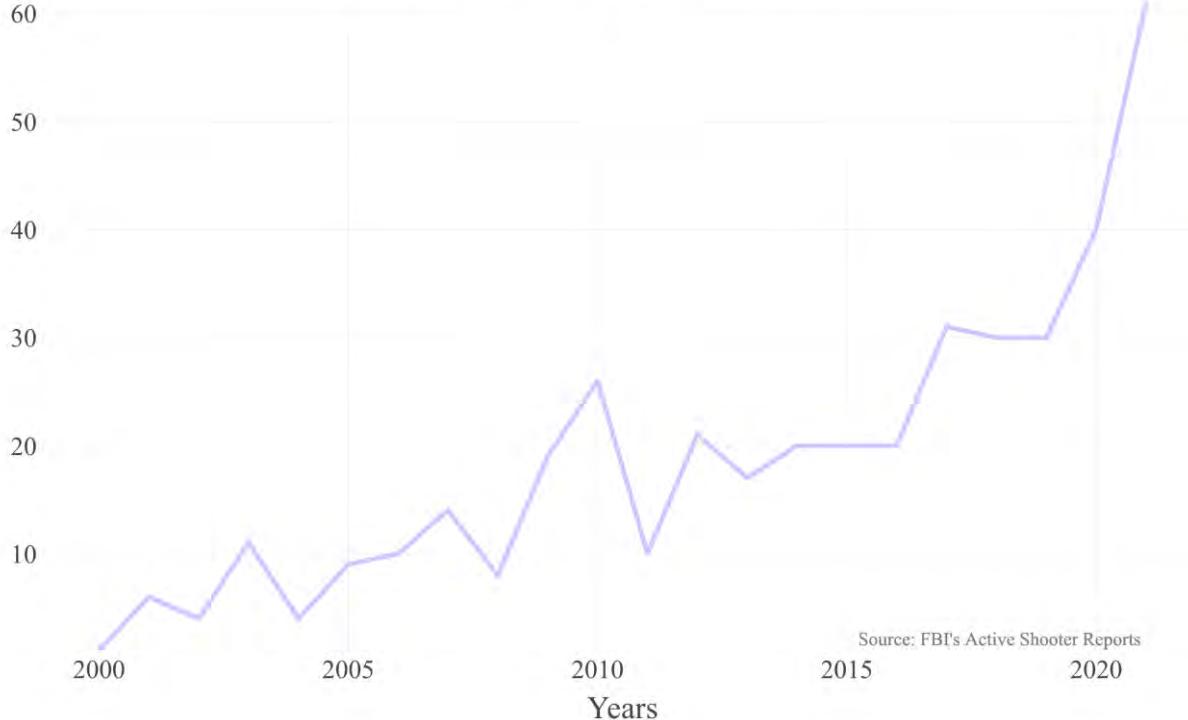

14. At the time of my 2019 Report, I stressed that the problem of active shooter incidents, which had been on the rise, would only be getting worse if significant action was not taken to address it. Sadly, my predictions based on the growing lethality of weaponry in the United States have been fulfilled. As bad as the active shooter problem looked in 2019, it is considerably worse today, as seen in the same FBI active shooter data now extended through 2021 in Figure 1. While 2017 was the peak of active shooter incidents at 30 up until that point, in 2021 the number more than doubled to 61.

15. The ominous and steep upward trend in the FBI data charting the growth in active shooter incidents is unmistakable. Not surprisingly, the number of mass shootings clearly is higher following the termination of the federal assault weapons ban in 2004. In that year, the FBI counted 4 active shooter incidents in which 14 died. Since then, the mayhem has accelerated so much that in 2021 the FBI counted 61 active shooter incidents killing 103.³

Active Shooter Incidents, 2000-2021

16. Since my 2019 Report, the United States has experienced numerous, devastating mass shootings, including the March 22, 2021 shooting at King Soopers supermarket in Boulder, Colorado (10 killed); the May 26, 2021 shooting in San Jose, California (9 killed); the May 14, 2022 shooting in Buffalo, New York (10 killed); the May 24, 2022 shooting at Robb Elementary in Uvalde, Texas (19 children and 2 adults killed); and the July 4, 2022 shooting at a Fourth of July parade in Highland Park, Illinois (7 killed). These figures do not reflect the countless people injured, both physically and emotionally, and the devastation inflicted on the communities in which they occurred. For example, during the July 4 mass shooting in Highland Park, Illinois, an 8-year-old boy was paralyzed and may never walk again after a bullet severed his spinal cord.⁴

27

⁴ NBC Chicago, Cooper Roberts, Boy, 8, Paralyzed in Highland Park

1 17. The consequences for the shooter are also severe. Tellingly, the 18-2 year-old Buffalo shooter, who killed 10 using the same weapon as the Sandy Hook 3 shooter—a Bushmaster XM-15 semiautomatic rifle—had written, “I am well aware 4 that my actions will effectively ruin my life. If I’m not killed during the attack, I 5 will go to prison for an inevitable life sentence.”⁵

6 18. Both the February 2018 mass killing at Parkland High School and the 7 May 2022 mass killing in Uvalde, Texas – where police delayed entering the school 8 during a shooting – vividly underscored how police responses to violence are 9 impaired when the officers are confronted by a shooter armed with an assault rifle.

10 19. Decades of research has shown that there is a considerable variation in 11 the survivability of a gun assault depending on the instrumentality employed. A 12 seminal 1972 study by UC Berkeley Professor Frank Zimring found “that the 13 outcome of gun assaults had a large random element, and that the power of the 14 firearm was one systematic factor influencing the likelihood that an individual with 15 a gunshot injury would survive.”⁶

16 20. A meticulous study by Anthony Braga and Phil Cook in 2018 has 17 powerfully confirmed this instrumentality effect. Braga and Cook examined the 18 files of 511 gunshot victims kept by the Boston Police Department and found that 19 survivability from gunshot wounds varied considerably based on attributes of the 23 ⁶ The description of the Zimring study comes from Braga and Cook (2018), 24 infra, note 6.

1 weapon and ammunition that generated the wound. Specifically, the death rate 2 from handgun assault injuries increased substantially as the caliber of the firearm 3 increased—even though the caliber was not correlated with observable indicators of 4 the intent and determination to kill by the shooter. The shooter's use of a medium 5 caliber handgun (.38, .380, and 9 mm) more than doubled the odds that the 6 wounded victim would die compared to small caliber handguns (.22, .25, and .32).
7 Large caliber handguns (.357 magnum, or greater) more than doubled the odds of 8 death compared to medium caliber handguns.

9 21. The authors conclude that:

10 The results here support the view that the intrinsic power and lethality of 11 the weapon had a direct effect on the likelihood that a victim of a 12 criminal shooting died. For Boston, in the period studied here, simply 13 replacing larger-caliber guns with small-caliber guns with no change in 14 location or number of wounds would have reduced the gun homicide rate 15 by 39.5 percent. It is plausible that larger reductions would be associated 16 with replacing all types of guns with knives or clubs (p.8, Braga and 17 Cook 2018).⁷

18 22. Of course, the conclusion of the Braga and Cook study—that 19 switching to less deadly firearm options could reduce firearm deaths—applies 20 directly to bans on assault weapons and high-capacity magazines. The greater the 21 lethality of the weapon, the more killed and injured in active shooter incidents.
22 This was clearly illustrated in a study for the Journal of the American Medical 23 Association that examined deaths and injuries documented in the FBI Active 24 Shooter Database from 2000-2017.⁸ The authors found that deaths and injuries

1 were substantially higher for the 61 active shooter incidents using a semiautomatic 2 rifle versus the 187 episodes using some other firearm. Specifically, in the 3 incidents in which the shooter employed a semi-automatic rifle the average number 4 killed or wounded was 9.72 versus only 5.47 killed or wounded when other 5 firearms were used. (Note that the authors excluded the horrific Las Vegas 6 shooting from the numbers above, since that case was so extreme, with 60 killed 7 and almost 500 wounded—all with semi-automatic rifles.)

8 23. This instrumentality effect was further demonstrated in an article I 9 authored with Phil Cook since my 2019 Report, demonstrating that the federal 10 assault weapons ban—which banned both new semi-automatic assault rifles with 11 certain features that made them attractive to mass shooters and new ammunition 12 magazines that could hold more than ten rounds—suppressed deaths in public mass 13 shootings.⁹ Figure 2 below shows that the deaths that occurred from these public 14 mass shootings over the period from 1985-2019 in five year increments. The 15 Figure highlights that by the second half of the ten-year existence of the federal 16 assault weapons ban (1999-2004), fatalities from public mass shootings using 17 banned weaponry had virtually been cut in half (falling from 30 down to 16).
18 Conversely, there was no decline in public mass shooting deaths over this period 19 with non-banned weaponry.

20 24. After the federal ban lapsed in 2004, the deaths from public mass 21 shootings using the previously banned weaponry rose sharply: rising from 16 in the 22 last five years of the federal ban to 271 in the five-year span from 2015-2019—with 23 the latter figure 17 times as high as the former. Meanwhile, there was relatively 24 little movement in public mass shooting deaths using the less-lethal weaponry 25 (neither an assault weapon nor a high-capacity magazine). Indeed, as Figure 2

26
27 ⁹ Phil Cook and John Donohue, “Regulating Assault Weapons and Large-28 Capacity Magazines for Ammunition,” JAMA. 2022; 328(12):1191-1192, <https://jamanetwork.com/journals/jama/fullarticle/2796675>.

1 illustrates, there was roughly the same number of deaths from less lethal weaponry 2 in the five-years prior to the federal assault weapons ban (1990-1994) as there was 3 from 2015-2019—specifically 83 in the pre-ban period and 81 in the final period.

4 25. Figure 2 also highlights that while there was a roughly comparable 5 number of incidents of public mass shootings that used either the most lethal 6 (previously federally banned) weaponry or less lethal firearms not subject to the 7 federal ban, the incidents involving assault weapons and/or high-capacity 8 magazines were far more lethal. Specifically, the 18 public mass shootings 9 conducted with the most lethal weapons killed 271 (roughly 15 deaths per episode), 10 while the 14 public mass shootings with the less lethal firearms killed 81 (about 5.8 11 deaths per episode).

12 Figure 2
13

14 Victim Counts for Mass Public Shootings in the United States, 1985 - 2019
15 Using Assault Weapons and/or High-Capacity Magazines versus Other Firearms

26 26. One of the unfortunate consequences of the continuing advances in the 27 lethality and power of modern firearms is that without appropriate government 28 action the dangers posed by civilian weaponry will continue to outpace any 1 legitimate crime-reducing benefit that firearms might provide. The lesson of the 2 November 2017 massacre at the Sutherland Springs Baptist Church in Texas 3 highlights the growing dangers. The killer in that case used an AR-15 that was 4 modified to include a laser scope and features that could allow large capacity 5 magazines to be more quickly reloaded to maintain a relentless barrage. The killer 6 stood outside the church and fired straight through the walls of the church as he 7 strafed along at just above the top of the levels of the church pews, allowing him to 8 shoot 254 shots from outside the church in a matter of minutes on his way to killing 9 26 men, women, and children. No bearable weapon in civilian hands at the time of 10 the adoption of the Second Amendment could possibly generate this degree of 11 destruction. The evident social harms will only grow as gun technology increases 12 firearm lethality.

13 27. My 2019 Report explained that the increase in gun massacre incidents 14 and fatalities closely tracks the growth in the U.S. of assault weapons sales, the 15 removal of potential liability on the part of gun merchants, and intense advertising 16 of the militarized upgrades, from high-capacity magazines to flash suppressors and 17 other tactical accessories, which has only continued since my declaration. Research 18 published following the mass shootings in Buffalo, New York and Uvalde, Texas 19 killing a total of 31 in May 2022 further confirms these findings.¹⁰ Specifically, an 20 analysis of mass shooting data by a group of injury epidemiologists and trauma 21 surgeons reached the following conclusion:

22 We calculated that the risk of a person in the U.S. dying in a mass 23 shooting was 70% lower during the period in which the assault weapons 24 ban was active. The proportion of overall gun homicides resulting from 1 mass shootings was also down, with nine fewer mass-shooting-related 2 fatalities per 10,000 shooting deaths.¹¹

3 II. LEGISLATIVE EFFORTS TO RESTRICT ASSAULT WEAPONS REDUCE 4 MASS SHOOTING DEATHS AND CASUALTIES

5 28. Table 1 provides an original econometric analysis of Mother Jones 6 mass shootings data from 1982-2019 to assess empirically whether assault 7 weapons bans at the state and federal level have limited mass shootings deaths and 8 overall casualties. This analysis reveals that such bans do generate statistically 9 significant reductions in mass shooting deaths and casualties.

10 29. This panel data analysis simultaneously examines data from all 50
11 states and the District of Columbia from 1982-2019 to ascertain what happens 12 when federal or state bans on assault weapons and/or high-capacity magazines go 13 into effect or are eliminated. The statistical model specifically controls for 14 national influences on mass shootings that occur each year (“year effects”) as well 15 as the stable differences in mass shooting rates across states (“state effects”).¹² 16 This panel data model also controls for a variety of criminal justice, socio-17 economic, and demographic factors that could also influence violent crime.¹³

18 30. Table 1 indicates that having an assault weapon ban (whether at the 19 state or federal level) and/or high-capacity magazine ban in place in a given state is

22 ¹² This is a population-weighted, state-level two-way fixed effects regression.

23 ¹³ The controls include the lagged incarceration rate in each state for each 24 year, the lagged police employee rate, real per capita personal income, the 25 unemployment rate, poverty rate, beer consumption, the percentage of the population living in MSAs, and six demographic variables (based on different age-sex-race categories). This statistical model is described in greater details in 26 Donohue, John, Abhay Aneja, and Kyle Weber, “Right-to-Carry Laws and Violent 27 Crime: A Comprehensive Assessment Using Panel Data and a State-Level
Synthetic Control Analysis” Journal of Empirical Legal Studies, April 2019,

1 associated with a statistically significant decrease in per capita rates of deaths and 2 casualties due to mass shootings.¹⁴ Overall, this analysis serves to further reinforce 3 and expand upon earlier findings that bans on assault weapons and high-capacity 4 magazines save lives.

20 III. INTERNATIONAL EFFORTS TO ADDRESS ASSAULT WEAPONS AND MASS
21 SHOOTINGS

22 31. I noted in my 2019 Report that Australia had banned assault weapons 23 back in 1996. New Zealand followed the Australian lead after a horrific mass

25
26 ¹⁴ The model also suggests that these gun safety restrictions suppress the rate 27 of mass shooting incidents and injuries, although the evidence is statistically 28 weaker for these dependent variables although the injury-alone effect is statistically significant at the .10 level.

1 murder with an assault rifle,¹⁵ and Canada just announced in May 2022 its plans for 2 a similar gun buyback for its current stock of assault weapons after its own 3 horrendous mass shooting prompted the enactment of a ban on assault weapons in 4 2020.¹⁶ Tellingly, in announcing an array of stringent gun safety measures, 5 Canadian Prime Minister Justin Trudeau showed that he has learned from the 6 lamentable experience of mass killings in the United States: “We need only look 7 south of the border to know that if we do not take action, firmly and rapidly, it gets 8 worse and worse and more difficult to counter.”¹⁷

9 IV. THREATS TO CIVIL PEACE AND TO DEMOCRACY ITSELF

10 32. There is also a larger issue at stake with the proliferation of assault 11 weapons: their capacity to facilitate political violence and threaten American 12 democracy. The concern is heightened by the sharp rise in the percentage of 13 Americans who think that violence against the government could be appropriate, 14

16 ¹⁵ Associated Press, “New Zealanders hand in 50,000 guns after assault 17 weapon ban,” Dec. 21, 2019, <https://www.nbcnews.com/news/world/new-zealanders-hand-50-000-guns-after-assault-weapon-ban-n1106081> (“The 18 government banned the most lethal types of semi-automatic weapons less than a 19 month after a lone gunman in March [2019] killed 51 worshippers at two 20 Christchurch mosques. The police then launched a six-month program to buy the newly banned weapons from owners.”).

21 ¹⁶ The Prime Minister also announced that magazine size would be restricted 22 to five rounds in long guns. Justin Trudeau, “Further strengthening our gun control 23 laws,’ (May 30, 2022), <https://pm.gc.ca/en/news/news-releases/2022/05/30/further-strengthening-our-gun-control-laws>; Amanda Coletta, “Canada vows to ‘freeze’ handgun sales, buy back assault-style weapons,” The Washington Post (May 30, 2022)(“[T]he government banned 1,500 makes and models of “military-style assault weapons” in 2020, after a gunman posing as a police officer charged across rural Nova Scotia, killing 22 people, including a Royal Canadian Mounted Police officer, in the country’s deadliest mass shooting.”).

1 which doubled from 16 percent in 2010 to 34 percent in 2021 (over 40 percent of 2 Republicans and independents and 23 percent of Democrats agreed).¹⁸

3 33. The extent and severity of these concerns have been clarified by the 4 events surrounding the “Stop the Steal” rally of January 6, 2021, which I have 5 written elsewhere has provided new insight into the dangers of such weaponry and 6 the utter folly of many of the claims of the gun lobby:

7 Consider the gun lobby protestation that “Gun control simply doesn’t 8 work.” Imagine for a moment what that rally would have looked like in 9 Houston, Texas, or some other “gun-friendly” jurisdiction. Without 10 Washington, DC’s profoundly wise firearm restrictions [including its 11 assault weapons ban], a very large number of the rioters would have been 12 marching on the U.S. Capitol armed with assault rifles equipped with 13 high-capacity magazines and other highly lethal weapons. When the 14 mob storming the Capitol spun out of control, guns would have been 15 flashing everywhere, and it is not hard to imagine that bullets would have 16 been cutting down scores or even hundreds of victims. Those who 17 remember the 1970 Kent State massacre understand that once the bullets 18 start flying in a riotous atmosphere, the consequences quickly turn lethal 19 and dire....

20 The pernicious Proud Boys leader Enrique Tarrio [now under indictment 21 for seditious conspiracy],¹⁹ who had planned to address the crowd before 22 the U.S. Capitol riot, was thankfully taken off the streets two days earlier 23 when he was arrested for tearing down a Black Lives Matter banner on a 24 Washington, DC, church and lighting it on fire. At the time of his arrest, 25 Tarrio was carrying two high-capacity magazines festooned with the Proud Boys logo. Washington, DC’s wise prohibition on such unnecessary accoutrements to lethal weaponry managed to keep one conspiring criminal away from the U.S. Capitol on January 6, and thousands of others, knowing of Washington, DC’s strict gun laws, were dissuaded from carrying weapons because of these laws.

1 [Moreover, the claim that assault weapons could protect American 2 democracy is fanciful.] First, the thought that private gun owners could 3 stand up to the modern U.S. military if it backed a tyrannical federal 4 government is absurd. There is no circumstance in which private citizens 5 in modern America could promote democracy by using assault weapons 6 to kill government employees to show their disapproval of what they 7 perceive to be a “tyrannical” government. Second, the idea that gun 8 owners can be expected to oppose rather than support the tyrant was dealt 9 a fatal blow by the violence at the U.S. Capitol.²⁰

10 CONCLUSION

11 As discussed in my 2019 Report, the problem of mass shootings in the United 12 States is growing worse and is exacerbated by the ready availability of assault 13 weapons. Additional information gathered since my declaration only serves to 14 reinforce those opinions.

15 I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct.

16 Executed on January 2, 2022 at Stanford, California.
